WINES BY THE GLASS

CORAVIN SELECTION

A Coravin is a wine preservation system invented in 2011 which allows the user to extract wine from a bottle without removing the cork. The system works by pumping Argon gas (an inert gas often used in the vilification process) through the cork with a strong, hollow needle- allowing wine out and inhibiting the oxidation of the remainder of wine in the bottle. It's an amazing process indeed- and a wonderfully accessible way to try some of the finest wines in the world without committing to a whole bottle.
